

CALL TO ARMS: Are you ready?

by Deborah Sue Pomeroy Reckmeyer, May 15, 2009

The gift of manifestation comes with a responsibility. Are we ready? To receive such a gift means truly understanding the depths of such a gift.

Like any tool in life manifestation is neither good nor bad. All depends on the user.

We are coming out of a broken age where each of us has fallen asleep and do not realize to what extent we are disconnected within our very beings. We have lost our connections to our origins, to our selves, to each other, to all existence and to our ultimate source. No wonder our world is in such a state. We are adrift and have been for a long time. We have had no map, no anchor, no compass, and no captain lost on the waves floating one way or another as the wind blows.

We have come to the tipping point. It is time to look in the mirror and travel through the looking glass to see beyond all that has kept us from ourselves. Are we ready?

If the energy comes forth that raises our harmonic frequencies to be able to manifest at will, are we genuine in our soul to handle such a gift. If we are not true to ourselves, we will be like children playing with matches and we will destroy all that we have in a moment. Like a magnifying glass in the sun, we can burn up all that we hold dear.

We cannot accept this gift if we are not ready... genuinely ready to receive the responsibility of such a gift. We have to be prepared in who we are, where we are from, why we are here and how we are going to achieve what we set out to do. We know that the time is right now.

We have to get back to basics.

We know that life cannot continue as it has. We need to do our own research, take responsibility for our lives and make the choices to be and do that which is who we are. The question is how.

The only way is through the narrow gate of your soul and knowing thyself. Cleaning house, healing thyself, building on a strong foundation, developing the needed supplies, tools and talents. This is being ready.

The point is to be open when we are called to act immediately as we know we should. Not from some external judgment but an internal knowing. Being balanced, aligned and centered like a fine tuned tool ready to be used, just waiting for the call, the call to action.

The activation has begun. We are being called. Are you listening? If collectively we are ready, we are moving to a higher level of existence. Our world is going to change.

RIGHT NOW it is VITAL that we are:

Awake ~ Turned On ~ Tuned In ~ Powered Up ~ Activated ~ Ready to Go Listening for the Call

And

In a Moment's Notice,
Act without hesitation knowing exactly what needs to be done

The key is to be 100% authentic and intentional. The Key is not to pretend to be perfect or right. The key is to be REAL. Be strong on no tolerance. Call it like you see it. Not in hate or anger. Act in firm strong belief empowered by full emotion in absolute control of your highest being for your highest purpose. Act in love and faith and hope. All is well. Be true in yourself, in your relations and with all of existence.

If you are mad, claim being mad. If someone is out of line, speak truth firmly and in right action. The point is to be clear and real. Open your heart and live strongly into your life. Be clear with healthy boundaries.

We are in the time where everything is changing. This moment is the turning point. Each will make the choice where they stand. Decide what you are responsible for and take 100% responsibility for it. Draw that line in the sand and let the rest go. Take responsibility. Clean and clear out your lives. Prioritize. Make real choices. Line up all your life and relations. Get right with yourself and live life from the deepest part within your soul. Listen to your guidance system. Use your navigation system. Amplify life by using 100% of your emotions, intellect and intuitions to tap into your whole body. Dedicate 100% to this evolution. All that does not support your higher purpose RELEASE! Embrace all that supports who you truly are and why you are here.

YOU are being called.

ACTIVATE!

Right here right now is the time.

FINALLY. Awake and embrace.

We are the ones we have been waiting for!

Take no prisoners. Carry no baggage. You have all that you need. We are ready. You choose.

The gift is ours for the taking. This time are we going to step up? Or, once again are we falling back into our slumber. This is decision time. Where will you fall when that line is drawn in the sand?
